The Final Fantasy XIII-2 Trilogy - Limited Edition - JRPG.Matt Smith, who plays the title role in the upcoming space adventure 'Titanic' and turns 51 on Sunday, says that even though he's become a bit of an "old man" now, he's not slowing down and looks forward to following up 'Titanic' with another sci-fi film soon, the Hollywood Reporter has learned. "I'm not an old man, but I am getting there," he tells THR in this week's cover interview. "I would love to go back to outer space, but it's not in the cards right now. We are going to go to Mars but I don't know when." Culminating a year of tens of millions of dollars in production costs and playing a high-profile character as fictional mega-rich tycoon John Jacob Astor IV, Smith says: "People have brought me box lunches from White Castle burgers and these 'Astor' burgers, with bacon and everything on them. I'm not saying I won't eat them, but I am still thinking about my next meal. I don't know if I can eat a chicken breast at this point." Smith is opening a bakery, appropriately called Smitten with Bread, in Beverly Hills, Calif., which he opened in June. His first order of business, however, is to settle down and quit entertaining so he can start a family.

"I've got this little one-year-old out of wedlock. She's currently known as Kitty," he said. "I love her to death. But I think it's time to start thinking about a new person. She's like an extra appendage. She's like a pin in
