- amazing!!! - nice!!!! merci I've got 2 web-hosting accounts with Heroku. One with 3 dynos (4 actually, but 2 are being used at the moment) and one with 7. Both servers are running Passenger. It's been a week now and I can't seem to make my site reload in the browser. While I'm typing in any page, sometimes it'll reload the page. I can't seem to find out what's causing it. It will just reload randomly (except when it reloads with a 404). I've tried rebooting my mac and uninstalling/reinstalling Rails (on both accounts). I even tried clearing my cookies, but still no luck. I've tried clearing the rails log and rescue logs as well, but they're still full. Since this seems to be a global problem, is there a way to clear the Passenger logs as well? I've searched the net and found nothing. Thanks in advance!

Ethics. Ethics is a tricky subject, it's so vast, it contains so many different opinions, but one thing I do know is that there are things that are right and wrong. And there are people who are right and wrong. And there are situations where you can't choose who the people are but the situation. There are things that are right and wrong and good and bad and there are people who make things right and bad and good and bad. There are people who are good and bad. So, no, people are not inherently good or bad, good or bad are a result of the situation and the people involved in the situation. So, can we just say that people who are bad or good are caused by their actions?

Stabilization of the carbon dioxide/methane reaction by nanoparticles. The effect of nanoparticles on the reaction between carbon dioxide and methane has been investigated in this study by using Cs₂Pd₃(CO)₁₂ (Cpd) as a catalyst. The Cs₂Pd₃(CO)₁₂ precursor is first decomposed to form a solution of CsPd(CO)₃ nanoparticles (CsPd), which is then applied to the reaction. Experiments show that the catalyst exhibits an activity as high as 10,000 TON, while the activity 82157476af
